A Word From Your President

Memories are funny things you know. Unless you take the time to remind yourself of things, you will inevitably forget them. This is why we must always try to remember all the things we do in a year, large or small, because if we forget then we have discounted our effort toward Lionism. Having said that, let's remember what our club has done for individuals and the community.

The Year in Review:

Hosted our spouses for many a dinner meeting.
We assisted John Robert's Road bingo on countless nights to the reward of us both.
Collected numerous pairs of eyeglasses and hearing aids.
Attended the wedding of Julian and Sandra in France.
Participated in summer fest with great profits to show for it.
Vision screened children at summer fest.
Purchased candy for the haunted hayride.
Enhanced our working relationship with the Boy Scouts.
Purchased candy for Santa at Christmas.
We strung and lit lights for the tree lighting at town hall.
Held a raffle at the tree lighting.
Vision screened children at the tree lighting.
Volunteered for the Salvation Army by bell ringing for them.
Judged little miss Scarborough for the Winter Carnival.
Fixed up the exterior of our extra building.
Varnished the floor in the den.
Donated our profits from our four roast beef suppers to Project Grace, The Boy Scouts, Scarborough Historical Society, and Project Graduation in return for their assistance.

In addition to our four yearly roast beef suppers we held a fifth for our club's benefit.

Held a health fair in Sam's Club.

Attended the Fire Department's award night.

Sent a student to the world leadership seminar.

Sent two students to the All-state conference.

These are just some of the many things we have done this past year, and I suspect we will repeat many of these things again next year. Hang onto these memories because our involvement in the community is what makes this club great, so we cannot forget to pat ourselves on the back once in a while. Thank you one and all for your help and a great year. Good Bye.

World's Stupidest Criminals

William Bowen was arrested and charged with drunken driving in June 1986 after police spotted his car weaving on the road in Louisville, Kentucky. Bowen had his excuse ready, though: As he's legally blind, he wasn't really the driver—his dog, Sir Anheuser Busch, II, was. Bowen had had an argument with his girlfriend, who had left him at a tavern with the car and the dog. As he had to get home, he sat the dog in the passenger seat and told it to bark at each traffic light, twice for green and once for red. The dog did pretty well, but unfortunately Bowen couldn't see the white line down the center of the road, so he couldn't keep in lane. He was credited with the 30 days he'd spent in jail awaiting trial, and said he'd given up driving for good.

The owners of a home in Loganville, Georgia, returned home in the early hours of the morning at the end of July 1993, to find their home had been broken into again. The burglar had helped himself to grape juice and lunch meat, leaving scraps of food scattered about the kitchen, and taken a shower. The homemakers told police it was the tenth time in July that someone had broken into their house, eaten food, and showered.

Two young men, lost while driving in east London in October 1995, decided to find a nice quiet parking lot and smoke a joint. They found a secluded spot on Ainsley Street and lit up. Shortly afterward, Police Constable Berry tapped on the window and asked them what they were doing smoking a joint in the parking lot of Bethnal Green police station. They were let off with a formal caution.

Recipe of the Month Minted Peas

2 tbsp plus 2 tsp reduced-calorie margarine
¼ c chopped onions
¼ c chopped celery
1 10-oz package frozen peas
2 tsp finely minced fresh mint leaves, or ½ tsp dried leaves
¼ tsp dried rosemary, crushed
3 tbsp water

Melt margarine in a small saucepan over medium heat. Add onions and celery and cook until tender, about 5 minutes. Add remaining ingredients. Cover and cook 10 minutes, until peas are tender. Makes 4 servings at 93 calories per serving.

Steak-Ka-Bobs

1-½ lbs sirloin steak, cut into 1-inch cubes, fat removed
¼ c soy sauce
1 tbsp vegetable oil
2 tsp sherry extract

½ tsp ground ginger
2 tbsp firmly-packed brown sugar (or sweetener equivalent to 6 tsp brown sugar)
1 tsp onion powder
1/8 tsp garlic powder
1-½ c canned pineapple chunks (unsweetened), drained
2 tbsp juice from pineapple
2 tsp cornstarch

Place meat in a shallow pan. In a small bowl, combine soy sauce, oil, sherry extract, ginger, brown sugar, onion powder, and garlic powder. Pour over meat and marinate several hours, turning meat occasionally. Drain, reserving marinade. Thread the meat and pineapple on 6 skewers. Place on a broiler rack or outdoor grill. Broil 3 inches from heat for about 10 minutes, or until done to taste, turning skewers to brown on both sides. In a small saucepan, combine the reserved marinade with the pineapple juice and cornstarch. Stir to dissolve cornstarch. Cook over low heat, stirring, until mixture thickens and boils. Serve with the meat. Serves 6 at 274 calories per serving.

Life

Life is too short to let even one day
Be frenzied or frazzled or frittered away.
Life is too short not to take the time to do
The things that will hold the most meaning for you.
So let yourself float like a leaf on the stream,
Relax with your memories and let yourself dream.
Throw out your list that's impossibly long,
And dance a few steps to a favorite song.
Turn off the news and go find someone real
Who'll listen and talk and affirm what you feel.
Life is too short and flies by if you let it,
So choose what you want ever day and go get it.
